*He entered the high school independent, unaware that we would learn and grow together. Yet, for the short time he has been here, his understanding and concern for the well-being of all the students at Windsor Locks High School has made him a significant part of our high school years. For these reasons, we, the Class of 1976 dedicate
this year's Herald*

to

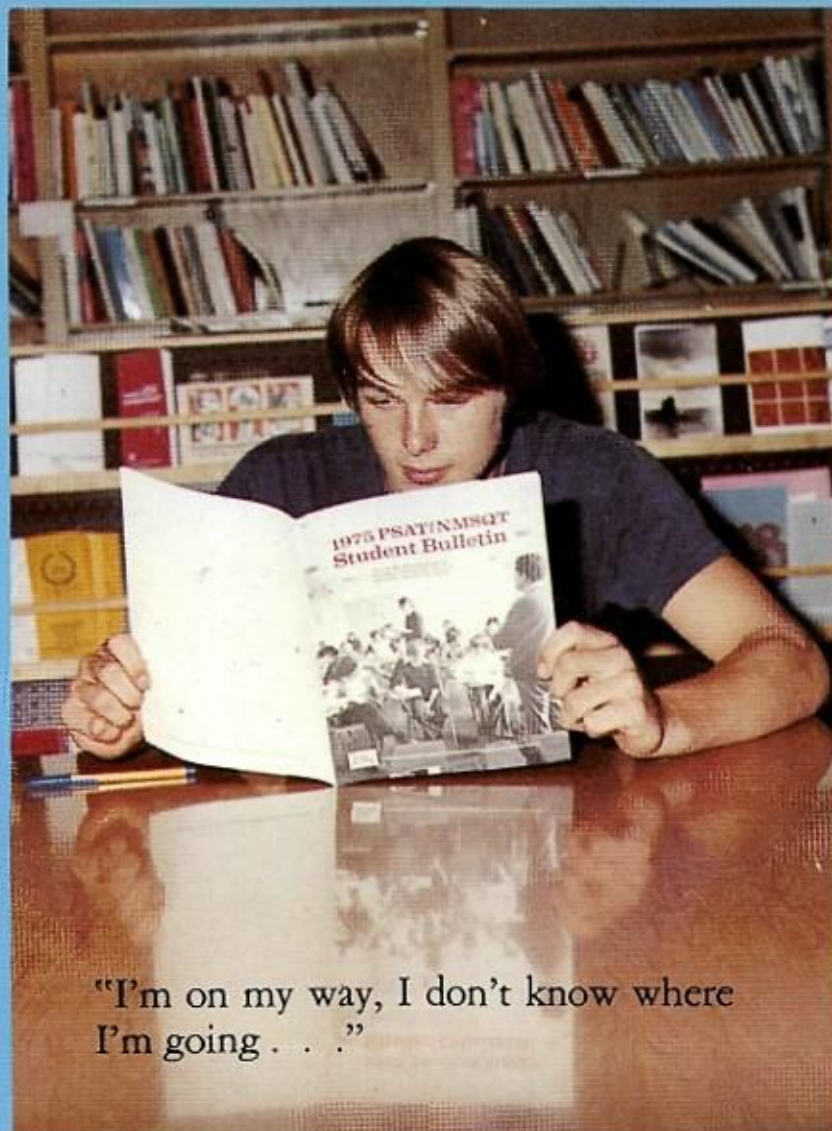

Mr. Frank Borchetta

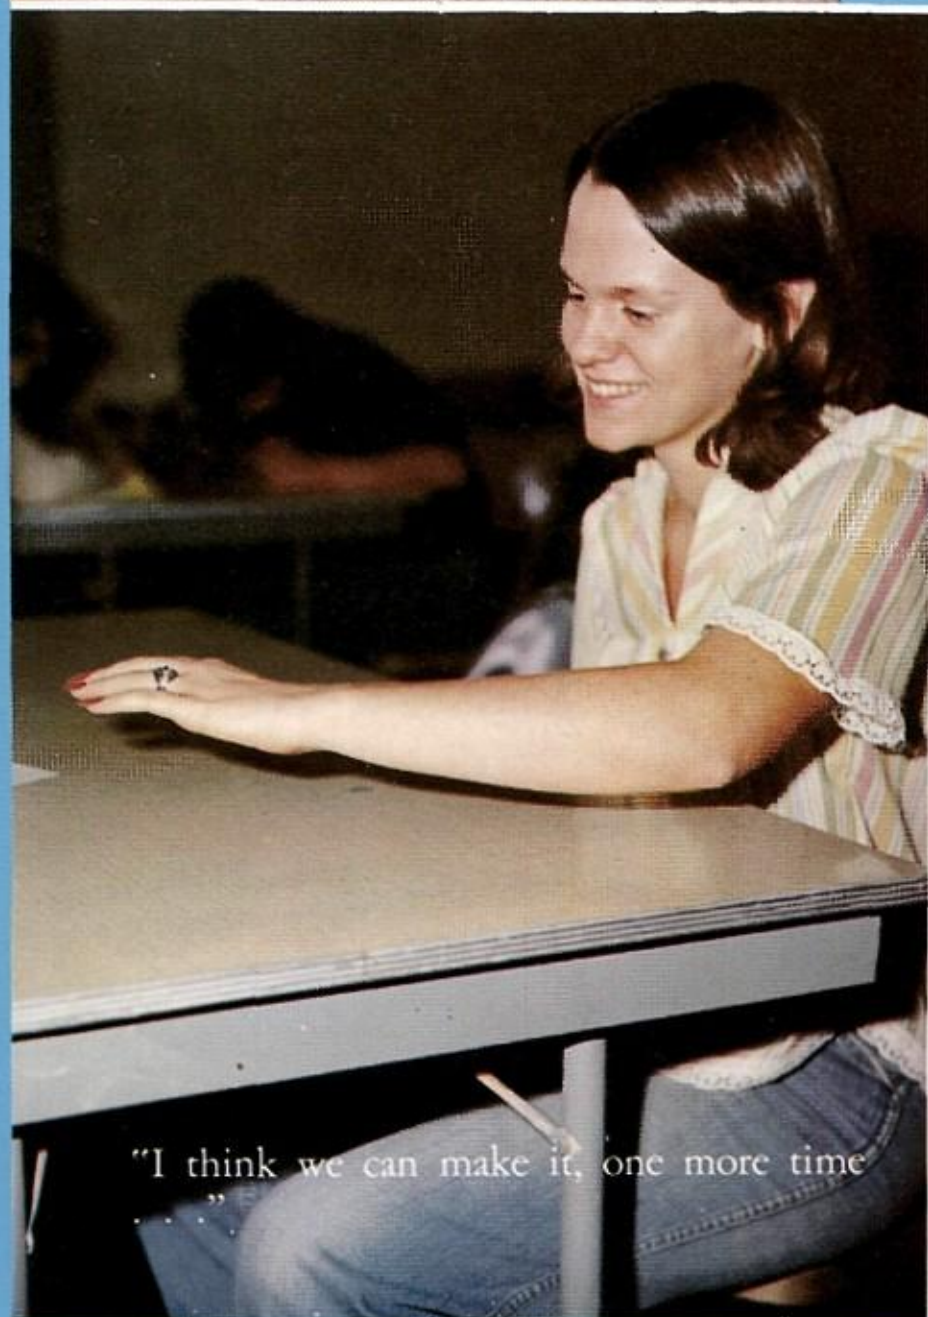

"It's only the beginning, only just the start . . ."

I M A G E S

"I'm on my way, I don't know where I'm going . . ."

"I think we can make it, one more time . . ."

". . . and yet we've just begun."

INDEPENDENCE . . .

a word that means different things to different people. To some, it means the ability to make their own decisions. To others, it is simply a word used to describe the founding idea of our country. My own connotation of the word lies somewhere in between; independence means the right to be oneself, yet the willingness to learn from others. And a key to the true meaning of independence is cooperation and, especially, growth.

The founding fathers of 1776 whom we call independent, demonstrated this idea. Our country evolved because they worked together, learned together, and grew together; in doing so, they formed a new nation.

On a smaller scale, we, the class of 1976, are the same. When we entered WLHS as freshmen we were independent in that we were gaining responsibility. But, as our high school years passed, we worked together, laughed together, studied together, and mostly grew together. Although our interests varied, we were all striving toward a common goal — to prepare ourselves for the adult life outside the confines of school.

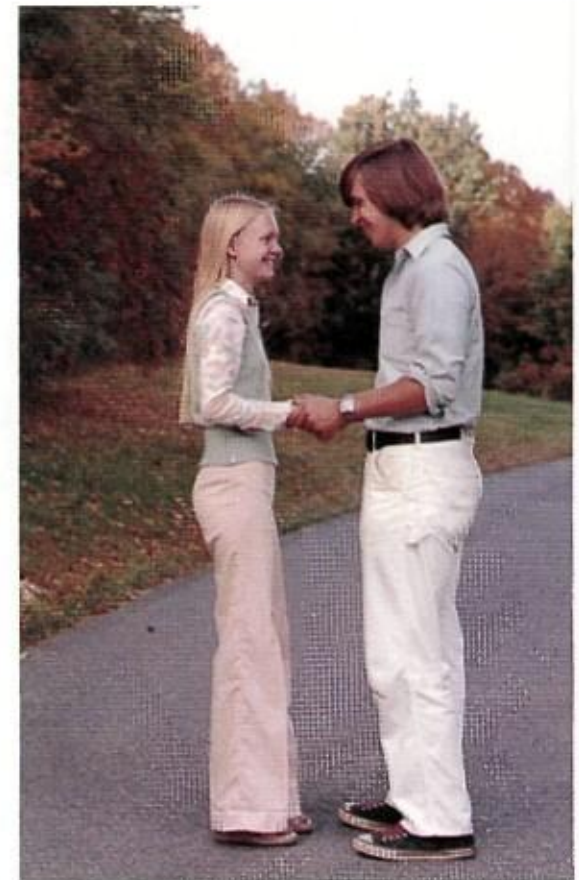

Now, as we leave high school to pursue our own lives, we look back on our four years with fond memories. We remember the good times and the bad. And each of us is a stronger, more mature person because of these experiences. But let us hope that not one of us is so independent that we will not continue to learn and grow in the years to come.

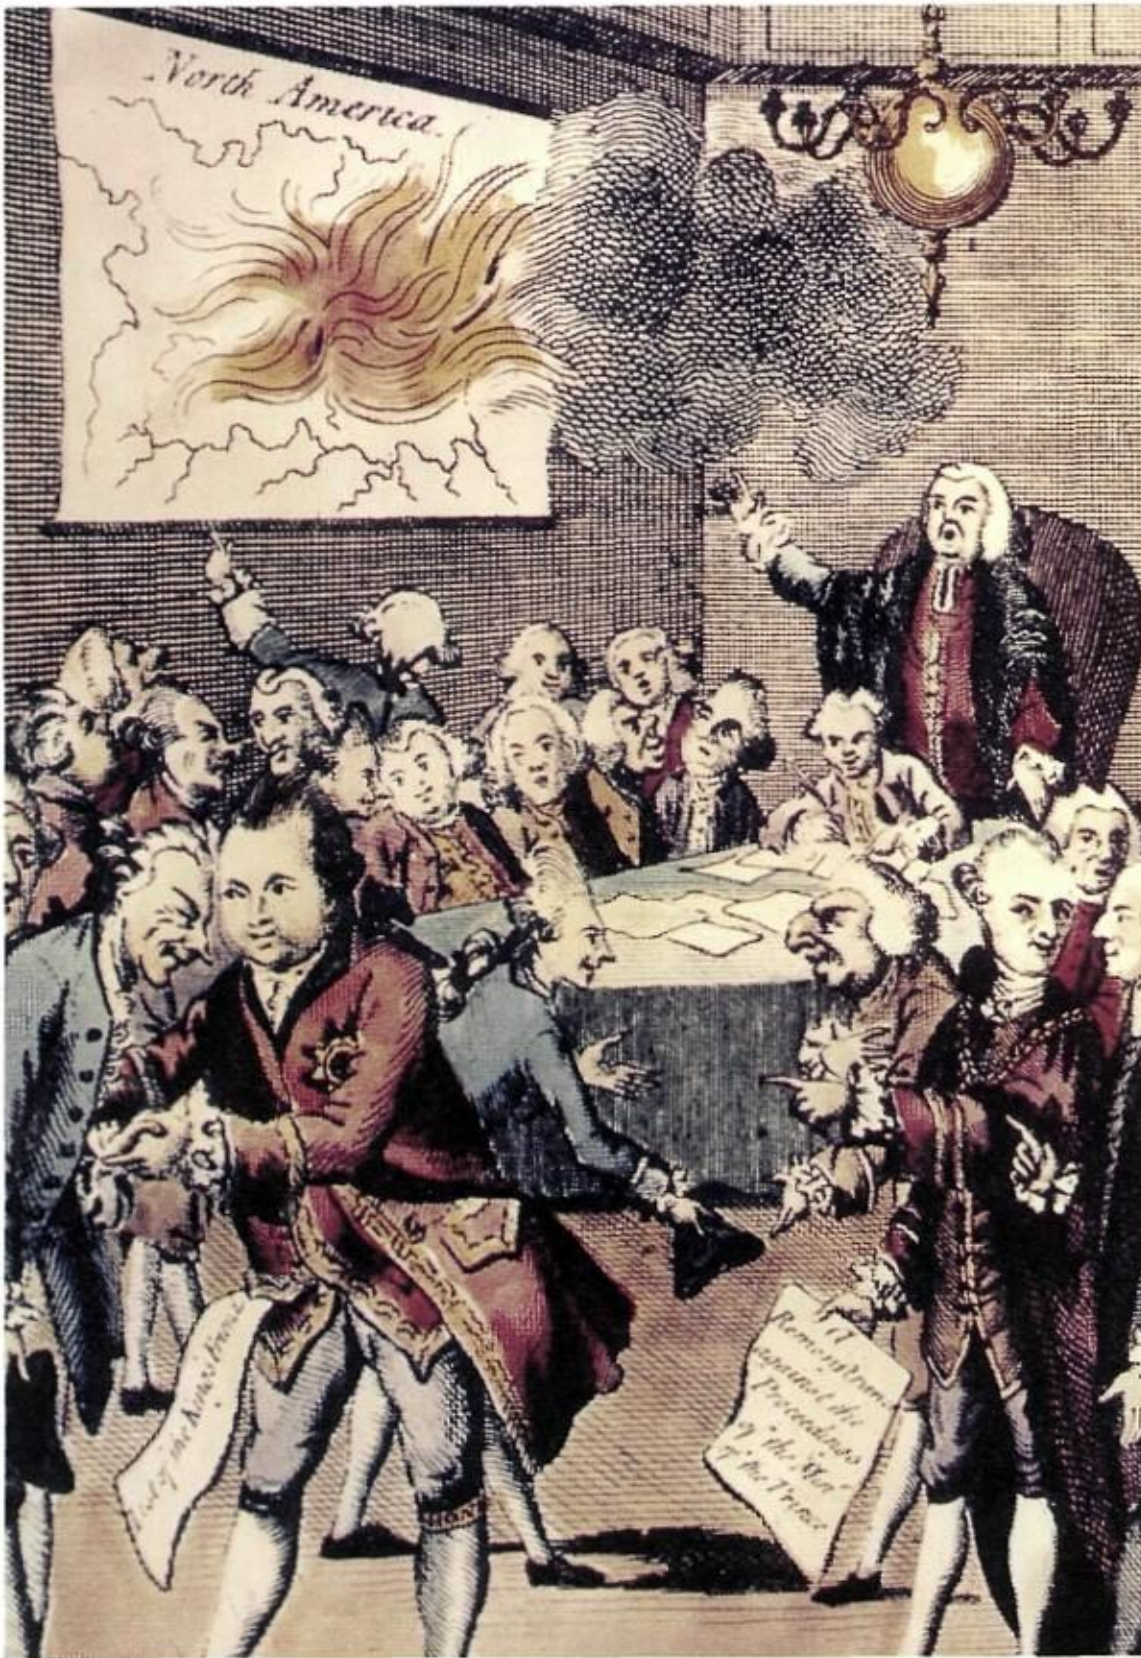

Janis Malec

CONFRONTATION:

*It was the beginning of
four years
during which we would
endure
time and change,
anticipation and fulfillment,
success and failure. It was a time for happiness and perhaps even a little bit of fear.
We were each
one
of
many.*

*Searching for
recognition,
we
found
that
the only
way
to an identity*

was to speak our piece and bide our time. We had yet to be thought of as individuals . . .

STRUGGLE:

*We found ourselves in the midst of decision-making and looking forward.
Confusion dominated.*

*Which
way
to
go?*

Struggling not to be overlooked, we found ourselves becoming more involved, developing a sense of awareness, and building self-confidence.

CONQUEST:

*Once again it is a time for happiness and perhaps fear.
But the way we will travel is new and exciting. And this time we will go alone. We will leave as independent individuals.*

*Behind us is a maze
of trial and error.
We will look back
with a smile, but
look forward to
moving on in the pursuit of happiness.*

. . . along the way.

THE GAME OF LIFE

It is not in the nature of man — nor of any living entity — to start out by giving up, by spitting in one's own face and damning existence; that requires a process of corruption, whose rapidity differs from man to man. Some give up at the first touch of pressure; some sell out; some run down by imperceptible degrees and lose their fire, never knowing when or how they lost it. Then all of these vanish in the vast swamp of their elders who tell them persistently that maturity consists of abandoning one's mind; security, of abandoning one's values; practicality, of losing self-esteem.

Yet a few hold on and move on, knowing that that fire is not to be betrayed, learning how to give it shape, purpose and reality. But whatever their future, at the dawn of their lives, men seek a noble vision of man's nature and of life's potential.

And now . . .
